EXCLUSIVE

TROY BROMAGN

All the RTS constitutional crisis experts agree that the key question - can prime minister Kevin Rudd be removed without the support of his parliamentary majority? - has four possible answers: no, yes, maybe, or "maybe don't know"

Rudd was also planning to convene a second round of consultations with the state premiers on the socio-economic plan that would contain the Centenary Fund, a $1 billion fund for the millennium.

Rudd's handshake of plan for the millennium was his most significant achievement in the past six months, and it was carried out with the aim of consolidating his position as leader of the government.

EXCLUSIVE

MARCUS GARDEN

The nation's first free-lunch programs within within a range of educational programs, which have been hailed as a key feature of the Rudd government's social justice policy.

The programs were intended to provide a healthy and nutritious meal for students, and to help reduce the burden of poverty on families.

The programs were established in 2005, and have been widely praised for their impact on improving children's health and academic performance.

EXCLUSIVE

MARK COLLIN

The first law to be passed in this session of the legislature is the Genesis Amendment, which seeks to limit the rights of women to access abortion.

The amendment was introduced by the government, and has been fiercely opposed by pro-choice groups and women's rights advocates.

The amendment was passed in the NSW parliament, and has sparked a legal challenge.

The case is expected to be appealed to the High Court.

EXCLUSIVE

LINDA MAYNARD

The state's first inpatient mental health facility, the Genesis Hospital, was opened in 2003.

The hospital was built to provide a safe and supportive environment for patients with mental health issues.

The hospital has since treated thousands of patients, and has been hailed as a model for mental health care.

EXCLUSIVE

MARK MILLIN

The first law to be passed in this session of the legislature is the Genesis Amendment, which seeks to limit the rights of women to access abortion.

The amendment was introduced by the government, and has been fiercely opposed by pro-choice groups and women's rights advocates.

The amendment was passed in the NSW parliament, and has sparked a legal challenge.

The case is expected to be appealed to the High Court.

EXCLUSIVE

TOM MILLARD

The state's first inpatient mental health facility, the Genesis Hospital, was opened in 2003.

The hospital was built to provide a safe and supportive environment for patients with mental health issues.

The hospital has since treated thousands of patients, and has been hailed as a model for mental health care.

EXCLUSIVE

MARK MILLIN

The first law to be passed in this session of the legislature is the Genesis Amendment, which seeks to limit the rights of women to access abortion.

The amendment was introduced by the government, and has been fiercely opposed by pro-choice groups and women's rights advocates.

The amendment was passed in the NSW parliament, and has sparked a legal challenge.

The case is expected to be appealed to the High Court.

EXCLUSIVE

LINDA MAYNARD

The state's first inpatient mental health facility, the Genesis Hospital, was opened in 2003.

The hospital was built to provide a safe and supportive environment for patients with mental health issues.

The hospital has since treated thousands of patients, and has been hailed as a model for mental health care.

EXCLUSIVE

TOM MILLARD

The state's first inpatient mental health facility, the Genesis Hospital, was opened in 2003.

The hospital was built to provide a safe and supportive environment for patients with mental health issues.

The hospital has since treated thousands of patients, and has been hailed as a model for mental health care.

EXCLUSIVE

LINDA MAYNARD

The state's first inpatient mental health facility, the Genesis Hospital, was opened in 2003.

The hospital was built to provide a safe and supportive environment for patients with mental health issues.

The hospital has since treated thousands of patients, and has been hailed as a model for mental health care.

EXCLUSIVE

TOM MILLARD

The state's first inpatient mental health facility, the Genesis Hospital, was opened in 2003.

The hospital was built to provide a safe and supportive environment for patients with mental health issues.

The hospital has since treated thousands of patients, and has been hailed as a model for mental health care.

EXCLUSIVE

LINDA MAYNARD

The state's first inpatient mental health facility, the Genesis Hospital, was opened in 2003.

The hospital was built to provide a safe and supportive environment for patients with mental health issues.

The hospital has since treated thousands of patients, and has been hailed as a model for mental health care.

EXCLUSIVE

TOM MILLARD

The state's first inpatient mental health facility, the Genesis Hospital, was opened in 2003.

The hospital was built to provide a safe and supportive environment for patients with mental health issues.

The hospital has since treated thousands of patients, and has been hailed as a model for mental health care.

EXCLUSIVE

LINDA MAYNARD

The state's first inpatient mental health facility, the Genesis Hospital, was opened in 2003.

The hospital was built to provide a safe and supportive environment for patients with mental health issues.

The hospital has since treated thousands of patients, and has been hailed as a model for mental health care.

EXCLUSIVE

TOM MILLARD

The state's first inpatient mental health facility, the Genesis Hospital, was opened in 2003.

The hospital was built to provide a safe and supportive environment for patients with mental health issues.

The hospital has since treated thousands of patients, and has been hailed as a model for mental health care.

EXCLUSIVE

LINDA MAYNARD

The state's first inpatient mental health facility, the Genesis Hospital, was opened in 2003.

The hospital was built to provide a safe and supportive environment for patients with mental health issues.

The hospital has since treated thousands of patients, and has been hailed as a model for mental health care.

EXCLUSIVE

TOM MILLARD

The state's first inpatient mental health facility, the Genesis Hospital, was opened in 2003.

The hospital was built to provide a safe and supportive environment for patients with mental health issues.

The hospital has since treated thousands of patients, and has been hailed as a model for mental health care.

EXCLUSIVE

LINDA MAYNARD

The state's first inpatient mental health facility, the Genesis Hospital, was opened in 2003.

The hospital was built to provide a safe and supportive environment for patients with mental health issues.

The hospital has since treated thousands of patients, and has been hailed as a model for mental health care.

EXCLUSIVE

TOM MILLARD

The state's first inpatient mental health facility, the Genesis Hospital, was opened in 2003.

The hospital was built to provide a safe and supportive environment for patients with mental health issues.

The hospital has since treated thousands of patients, and has been hailed as a model for mental health care.

EXCLUSIVE

LINDA MAYNARD

The state's first inpatient mental health facility, the Genesis Hospital, was opened in 2003.

The hospital was built to provide a safe and supportive environment for patients with mental health issues.

The hospital has since treated thousands of patients, and has been hailed as a model for mental health care.

EXCLUSIVE

TOM MILLARD

The state's first inpatient mental health facility, the Genesis Hospital, was opened in 2003.

The hospital was built to provide a safe and supportive environment for patients with mental health issues.

The hospital has since treated thousands of patients, and has been hailed as a model for mental health care.